Miss Mary Corcoran Returns From Successful Official Visit.

Women of Covington Making Preparation to Erect a Building.

MEMBERSHIP GREATLY INCREASED

Miss Mary Corcoran, State President of the Hibernian Ladies' Auxiliary, arrived home Monday after making official visits to all the auxiliaries outside of Louisville and making preliminary arrangements for the institution of a flourishing body at Lexington. Miss Corcoran says that the men of the Bluegrass capital are only awaiting a visit from the State officers to organize a division that will soon equal any in Kentucky, and then the auxiliary will quickly follow, as a number of the most prominent and influential Catholic women there are very enthusiastic and anxious to become associated with the Ancient Order.

The State President first visited the auxiliary at Paris, which was found in splendid numerical and financial condition and strong as a brick wall. While there she was the guest of the County President, Miss Mary Leahy. An interesting and largely attended meeting and reception was held, at which Miss Corcoran dwelt upon the work of the order and the progress that has been made since the last convention. Rev. Father J. A. Cusack, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, was present and in a ringing address gave the auxiliary all the encouragement possible. Both the division and auxiliary will have good reports for the State convention that will meet in Louisville next year.

Miss Corcoran's next stop was at Ashland, where she was the guest of Miss Catherine Howard, the youngest and most energetic County President in the State. Here some excellent work was done, the auxiliary being reorganized and put on a firm basis and ten new members added. An open meeting was held that was attended by all the Hibernians of Ashland and the officers of the auxiliary at Ironton, Ohio. The programme was pleasing and interesting, and the address by the eloquent Pastonist Father Charles stirred everybody to the utmost enthusiasm. Thomas Howard, a pioneer among the Hibernians of Kentucky, was among the number present, and to him the State President of the ladies feels deeply grateful for the valuable assistance rendered her during her stay in Ashland. A pleasant feature was the banquet at which the praises of the auxiliary were sung and the ball that followed.

Miss Corcoran spent four days in Covington and Newport, where her coming was awaited with much interest. The auxiliaries in both places were found in splendid condition, their interests being zealously guarded by Miss Ada Conklin, State Secretary, and Miss Rose Carroll, County President. The Covington auxiliary, she says, is the banner one and has the largest treasury of any in the State. Encouraged by clergy and people, the women contemplate the erection of a Hibernian hall and home at Covington in the not distant future, and are constantly augmenting the fund for that purpose. The meeting held in Covington was perfect in every detail and will be sure to bear good fruit. Members of the auxiliary are enthusiastic over their work and expect to pass the year and set an example for the divisions of the entire State. While in the city, Miss Corcoran was the guest of Miss Ada Conklin, and at a reception held in her honor by Miss Rose Carroll, President of the auxiliary, she was presented with a handsome brooch. The State President also had much praise for Judge Shine and State Secretary Hunt, who have been doing splendid work for the order in Covington.

Miss Corcoran's most agreeable surprise was at Newport, where the baby auxiliary has increased 40 percent in both membership and finances, and promises to make a still more remarkable showing before the close of the year. Here another splendid meeting was held, and at the conclusion of her address the State President was presented with the prize bouquet from the Carthage fair. Many visitors were present and the addresses were listened to and given hearty approval. This completed her tour of inspection, and Miss Corcoran returned home pleased with the cordial reception accorded her everywhere and highly gratified with the progress the Ladies' Auxiliary is making.

Hibernians and the auxiliary must commend the efforts of Miss Corcoran, who is doing everything in her power to advance the order in Kentucky, and many are of the opinion that it would be wise for the State Board to arrange for a visitation to every division in the State. This would awaken interest and perhaps result in a great increase in membership. If necessary the National Board should be called upon to assist, as nowhere is there a better field for work for the A. O. H.

ST. LEO'S PICNIC.

All Who Attend Will Be Amply Repaid For Visit.

Next Thursday the people of St. Leo's congregation will welcome their friends to the first annual picnic of the parish. For this day great preparations are being made, and it is needless to say that all who attend will be amply repaid for the visit. No more delightful ride could be wished for than the one out Second street on the cars with Highland Park sign. These cars pass the church grounds where the picnic will be held. The affair will be in charge of the General Committee, composed of the following gentlemen: Joseph Link, Sr., John J. Schwiermann, Joseph Eiler, Henry Kustes, Joseph Schwiermann, Joseph Link, Jr., Jacob Marcell, Stephen Mathels and David Martin.

The dining-room will be in charge of the ladies of the Altar Society, and needless to say the dinner and supper will be all that the most fastidious could expect. The Young Ladies' Sodality will have charge of the various stands, ice cream, confectionery, country store, etc. The experienced hand of Joe Eiler will dispense liquid refreshments, assisted by expert attendants. At the turn of the wheel all eyes will behold the genial countenance of John T. Schwiermann.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Catholic Knights and the Knights of St. John, as well as several fraternal societies, are invited and expected to attend. The feature of the evening will be the awarding of prizes, among which will be special prizes, lot donated by Joseph Schwiermann. The Kentucky Irish American in a future issue will publish the names of the members of the various societies of St. Leo's as well as of the workers for the church on picnic day.

Y. M. I.

Grand Council's Memorial to the Late James J. Fitzgerald.

Owing to the overcrowded condition of our columns last week such matter was crowded out, but special notice of the following memorial tribute of the Young Men's Institute to the late James J. Fitzgerald, reported and adopted by the Grand Council in session at Owensboro:

The Hon. James J. Fitzgerald, of Louisville, is dead, but his spirit will always live in the minds and memories of those who knew him. Born of Catholic parents, he well knew and felt the dignity of this precious heritage. Endowed with talents of the highest order, loving and gentle even unto the tenderest of his family, he was a man of high and fearless, he endeavored himself to all whose fortune it was to come in contact with him. He was a citizen of the purest type, tried in responsible office and not found wanting; honored by his fellow-citizens, and was just on the eve of having fresh laurels bestowed on his civil career by appointment to judicial position by the Governor of this great Commonwealth, when the hand of that supreme robber, Death, stole him from our midst. James J. Fitzgerald was one of the country's foremost Catholic men. He belonged to a family in which the names of those men who names are not to be caged in by the limitations of a State boundary. National was his name and national will be his loss. Kentucky feels her loss most keenly because he was her adopted son; therefore we mourn.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Tenth Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, Kentucky Jurisdiction, in convention assembled at Owensboro, Ky., extend to his family our sincere sympathy for their great loss, their loved and loved one, and pray for the peaceful repose of his soul.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be to the bereaved family of Mr. Fitzgerald, that they be spread on the minutes of this Grand Council, and that copies be sent to the press.

NOW PRACTICING LAW.

Patrick J. Welsh, the popular expert of Division 3, A. O. H., and former Deputy County Assessor, who recently received his diploma from the Jefferson Law School and was admitted to the practice of law, has severed his connection with the Louisville Trust Company and entered upon his new career. His offices are in the suite of rooms 604 Kentucky Title Building, and a legion of friends predict for him a successful career in his new calling.

EUCHE and SUPPER.

Wednesday afternoon and evening, September 4, a eucche and supper for the benefit of St. Aloysius' church at Pewee Valley will be given by Mrs. C. D. Graham at her residence there, to which she extends a cordial invitation to all and his small congregation are having a hard struggle, and as this is a most deserving cause and a pleasant time is assured those who attend, it is hoped there will be a large gathering. The Pewee Valley cars will arrive and depart every thirty minutes.

SAD THE END.

Former Mayor Paul Barth Put Out His Life With Bullet.

Awful Deed Shrouds the Entire City in the Deepest Gloom.

His Mind Thought to Have Been Upset by Unjust Criticism.

HAD A LONG AND USEFUL CAREER

Wednesday the people of Louisville were shocked as never before and the entire city was shrouded in deepest gloom as the news spread that former Mayor Paul Barth had fired a bullet into his brain and died without regaining consciousness. The tragic deed was committed in the lavatory adjoining his private office of the Utica Cement and Lime Company.

phone and called his sister, telling her not to let the boys go swimming that afternoon.

The former Mayor was an extremely sensitive man. It is said that just before his retirement from the Mayor's office he sent for a newspaper friend and asked him if he would mind writing an article setting forth some of the things which had been accomplished for the city of Louisville during his administration.

INDORSE THE KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

The following resolutions were introduced by B. J. Sand, delegate from Mackin Council to the Y. M. I. Convention at Owensboro August 11-12-13, and were adopted unanimously.

To the Officers and Delegates of the Tenth Grand Council, Young Men's Institute, Kentucky Jurisdiction:

Experience having demonstrated the necessity of a champion of the principles that underlie our grand order, it necessarily devolves upon us to give every encouragement toward the continuation of such publications as have at all times manifested interest in our behalf, and to still widen the field of usefulness toward the advancement and upbuilding of the Young Men's Institute the following resolutions are hereby offered:

Whereas, The Kentucky Irish American has proven itself a true champion and warm supporter of the Young Men's Institute in publishing news of interest and concern to our members in general; and

Whereas, The best interests of our order demand that we have an official organ that stands ready to resist all unjust and unfair attacks made against our religious teachings; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the delegates to the Tenth Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, Kentucky Jurisdiction, in convention assembled, do hereby indorse the Kentucky Irish American as our official organ, and pledge our moral support and recommend it to the enterprising institutions of our State and Catholics in general as deserving of support and encouragement.

pany, 421 West Main street, at 11:45 o'clock, and twenty-five minutes later the former Mayor was dead, but it was not until about 10 o'clock that the deed was known and then it spread throughout the city like wildfire, being received everywhere with expressions of sadness mingled with tears.

Mayor Barth left no message whatever and none of his friends had any intimation that he thought of suicide. Only a few weeks ago he returned from a trip made with his three boys to the East, and to his intimate friends he then appeared in good spirits. The horse episode exposed in the papers, but in which he was not guilty of any criminal act, preyed greatly on his mind, and to several friends he said that the pressure created by his opponents because of that transaction was almost killing him. Sensitive to a high degree, the reflection upon him and the uncalculated strictures and taunts of press and politicians upon his official record brought on a despondency during his few last days that became a monomania, and it was while in this condition that he ended his life.

The ex-Mayor had been in and out of his office Wednesday morning and on his final return went direct to his private office. Besides Mr. Barth the only persons in the company when the deed was committed were two clerks and the stenographer. The latter, Frank Saltamachia, was seated at his machine in the private office when the fatal shot was fired. He rushed to the front office and notified Messrs. Arthur Livingston and Arthur Mann of the shot and they immediately proceeded to the lavatory, where they found Mr. Barth with a bullet hole in his head and in the throes of death. His head was bowed forward, his chin resting on his chest and a thin stream of blood trickled from the wound over the right ear. The revolver had fallen from his hand and had caught under his arm.

Though astounded at the sight that met their gaze they at once removed the dying man to the private office and summoned medical assistance, but he was beyond human aid and expired without regaining consciousness. The coroner was summoned and then the remains were removed to Barrett's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial, being taken to the Barth residence on West Jefferson street about 10 o'clock the same night.

William and Thomas Small, brothers-in-law of Mr. Barth, were called as soon as possible, and to them fell the painful duty of breaking the terrible news to the three sons and their sister, Mrs. Lieber, who kept house for Mr. Barth and looked after his three boys. Wallace Mann said Wednesday afternoon that perhaps the dead man's last words were of his boys, whom everyone knows he loved. Upon entering the office and just before the shot was fired Mr. Barth stepped over to the telephone and called his sister, telling her not to let the boys go swimming that afternoon.

My whole life," said he, "is centered in my three boys. I am both mother and father to them. I do not want them to grow up and feel that I was turned out of the Mayor's office on account of any wrongful act of mine. I want them to know that I accomplished some good for the city while I was Mayor."

Mr. Barth was born a poor boy and when but a child began to support his mother. By honesty and strict attention to business he rose rapidly and for a long while has been looked upon as a rich man. He was public-spirited and liberal and his clean and upright life made him universally popular. For seventeen years he had been a prominent figure in public life, and to him the city is largely indebted for many of its most needed and beneficial improvements. His career was an honored one and never a word was uttered against his integrity until it was learned that a horse had been bought for his use as Mayor with funds that belonged to the city.

Since his death men in all walks of life have paid high tribute to his worth, each deploring the attacks that they believe were the real cause of the deplorable tragedy, which has removed from the community one of its most useful and energetic citizens, whose purpose in life was to leave an honorable name and advance the material welfare of Louisville.

For the past two days an unceasing stream of friends called at the house to take a farewell view of Mr. Barth, who appeared as though in tranquil sleep. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's church, 2305 West Jefferson street, and the interment will be in St. Louis cemetery, where his body will repose beside that of his wife.

CONDITION IMPROVED.

Telegrams received Thursday from New York bring the pleasing intelligence that the condition of Miss Laura Raffo, who was stricken with typhoid fever three weeks ago, shows decided improvement. The turning point of her illness, in safety, and her steady recovery is now looked for by her physicians and attendants. Miss Raffo's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Raffo, have been with her constantly, and this week went to Charles P. Raffo, her uncle, who is in New York to be with her when the crisis of her illness was reached.

GETS DALTON'S PLACE.

Capt. Thomas Riley has been appointed inspector of gasoline lamps, succeeding Edward Dalton, who for years filled the position most acceptably. Riley's friends, and who are legion, had hoped that he would get a better place and that Dalton would remain undisturbed. This move on the political checker board that few understand. Strange happenings are taking place these days and for which there appears no good reason.

RIVAL OF REV. FATHER VAUGHAN

The fame of Father Bernard Vaughan, the London Jesuit, has spread around the world. The existence of frightful conditions abroad has very probably helped him as much as his own eloquence, that is if he really is desirous of becoming famous. ROME NEWS.

Canada and South America Send Plus X. Large Offerings.

Notwithstanding the decision of the Pope to suspend pilgrimages to Rome as long as the anti-clerical wave lasts, about two hundred Canadians were received at the Vatican last week, and were personally greeted by Pius X., who was effusive in his greeting. The pilgrims were presented by Mgr. 19th, a Canadian prelate, who made an offering to the Pope of a large sum of money on behalf of the Canadian Catholics.

Speaking of money, press reports say the Vatican administration has reasons to congratulate itself over the returns of the past few weeks. In connection with the projected celebration of the jubilee officially in October next, large sums of money have been received from the Catholics of Argentina, Paraguay, Chili and other South American States. In fact the amount is so large that the Vatican authorities consider it the best contribution ever received from South America for the support of the Holy See at one time. If it had not been for this the Vatican administration would have found itself in great difficulties to meet the budget of expense of the present month, as really there were no funds available. It is expected that before the end of the present year large amounts of money will be received from the Catholics in the United States, as a regularly organized work of collection in connection with the Papal jubilee is now going on in that country. The President of the committee which has charge of the jubilee festivities, is doing his utmost to collect a purse of $200,000 for the Pope's jubilee mass, and all indications are that he will succeed.

FREE LECTURES.

Mackin Council May Give a Series During Winter Months.

Mackin Council's meeting Tuesday night was well attended, the members being anxious to hear Messrs. Ben Sand and Charles Ralphy, who reported for the delegates to the Grand Council at Owensboro. They presented a detailed account of the proceedings of the convention, which seemed to please everybody. Owing to the warm weather there has been a lull in the work of the council, but will not be long until the members again become active.

Mackin's members have for two years been advocating free public lectures during the winter months. Tuesday night this matter was introduced and discussed, and upon motion President Sand named James J. Shelly, Thomas Glavin, Louis Kieffer, Ben Reid and Austin Walsh a special committee to consider the subject and report as soon as possible. This movement is intended for the benefit of the friends as well as members of the council. It is argued that by giving lectures similar to those of the Knights of Columbus during the past few years Mackin will show appreciation of the support received from the general public and at the same time do a great educational work.

Because of the convention of the Indiana Grand Council at New Albany it was decided to meet next Monday night instead of Tuesday, when the members of Mackin will cross the river with their degree and attend the initiation and receive all the degrees of the order.

BASE BALL.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be an exciting game at the Louisville park, the contending teams being the Kentucky Irish Americans and the Fellers. The line-up will be as follows:

Fellers: Marmillotte, c.; Geysell, s.; O'Bannon, 1b.; O'Searns, 2b.; Deeken, 3b.; Lally, i. f.; Vance, c. f.; Deeken, c. f.; Doyle, p. Kentucky Irish Americans—Endy, c.; Parsons, s.; Langan, 1b.; Langan, 2b.; Dewane, 3b.; Welsh, i. f.; Mulloy, c. f.; Barry, r. f.; Devitt, p. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The Philadelphia National League game, which will be played at the same time, is expected to be a good game and will be looked for.

FORTUNE FOR THE MULLOYS.

John M. Mulloy, the leading retail coffee dealer of this city, and his brother, Bernard Mulloy, of New Albany, have been spending the week in Cincinnati, where they have acquired interests that may result in an immense fortune for both. The nature of the enterprise we are not at liberty to divulge, but we will say that it is one that will create a greater and more profitable revolution than any we have yet heard of.

WOMAN WANTED.

Any middle-aged Catholic woman, with a widow with child preferred, who would like to secure a comfortable home as housekeeper for a poor country clergyman, may secure such a place by applying for further information at this office. While the remuneration will be small the household duties will be light and the surroundings pleasant. For the right party this is a splendid opportunity to obtain a permanent place.

FAKED

Pictures Used by London Press to Bring Discredit on Ireland.

The Graphic's Posed Moonlighting Scenes Never Took Place.

Irish Members of Parliament Are Offended and Others Disgusted.

SENSATION IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

It is seldom indeed, writes the London correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, that the legislature of a nation brings up for discussion the doings of the newspapers of the land, but the present English Parliament will be noted for this thing. When the British House of Commons debated on the doing of the Times, notably during the Crimian war, again during the American civil war, just after the battle of Bull Run, and again during the Parnell-Pigott affair, history was woven. But this year Parliament has tackled more than one paper. There was, first of all, a little Irish sheet down Wexford way; then the London Standard came into the limelight, closely followed by the Daily Mail, and now the Daily Graphic has had a turn. Unquestionably the Daily Graphic case was the most interesting and caused the greatest stir. And the trouble was all about some pictures which England's only penny daily illustrated paper published the end of last month, on July 20, to be accurate.

There have been a good many cases of cattle driving and moonlighting of late in some of the remotest districts of Ireland. On the date mentioned the Graphic came out with a set of half page cuts of moonlighting scenes. The paper calmly announced that the light had been bad when the alleged outrages occurred, and that the enterprising correspondent had waited for better light later, and specially posed the actual perpetrators in the acts which they committed and had them photographed. The British public still takes matters seriously, and it is not recorded that any of the Daily Graphic readers smiled as they viewed the pictures. In some quarters, perhaps, the "enterprise" of the paper was lauded. But in the House of Commons the pictures created a sensation. Many were the questions put on the papers for the following days by Irish members, and the Attorney General for Ireland, Mr. Cherry, put in an appearance to answer them. But he gave little satisfaction, and still more questions appeared. So Mr. Cherry appeared for a second time, and apparently now has succeeded in smoothing down the wrath of the Nationalists.

He announced that he had placed the matter in the hands of the police. The Inspector General of the Royal Irish Constabulary stated that the alleged moonlighting outrage had not been reported, and that it was scarcely possible that, if they had really occurred, the moonlighters would have posed for photographs. The Attorney General also said that there was no way to proceed against the correspondent or the paper; that the Government did not believe the outrages occurred, and would drop the matter.

Many of the Irish members wanted the correspondent imprisoned and proceedings taken against the paper. John Redmond, the Irish leader, wanted a law passed prohibiting papers from publishing such pictures, or in fact any picture of any Irish "outrages."

Arnold Herbert declared the correspondent ought to be arrested as an accessory after the fact. Swift McNeill was anxious for the correspondent to be prosecuted for libeling a whole people as was Pettier by Bonaparte when First Consul. The member for Cork, Mr. Flynn, was sure the events never took place. He told of other pictures supposed to depict affairs in the County Cork, which he swore never occurred. The Government was quick to see an opening. The Attorney General agreed instantly with Mr. Flynn and so did every one else. So it was decided that the events never occurred, the Irish members were once more happy and the incident closed. But Parliament's declaration practically brands the Graphic pictures as glaring fakes. In British newspaper circles the whole affair has created a sensation, and some merit, but the British newspaperman is agitated at the temerity of the correspondent in not only being present at the outrage during the night, but in corraling the moonlighters until the sun rose and then re-enacting the scene in front of his camera.

This is but another illustration of the attempts of the prejudiced London press to bring discredit upon the Irish people. The foregoing shows how hard up they are for material and the low methods to which they resort.

HURTS HIS PARTY.

Mayor Bingham's course since taking the reins of government has hurt the Democratic party to such an extent that many thoughtful and experienced men have come to the conclusion that there is no hope of electing any ticket that may be put in the field for the November election. His changes have not been popular and have in no wise improved the service. Capable and competent men have been punished by removal from office or reduced to the lowest rank, and for what? This is the question their friends want answered. When any of the city employees or officials are removed for cause there can be no reason for complaint, but in how many instances is this the case?

We want to be friendly with Mayor Bingham, and therefore believe it wrong to longer remain silent. His advisers should at once feel the public pulse and then take the proper steps to prevent him from further disrupting the party. It is folly for the Mayor to assume that he possesses all the wisdom and is greater than the party. He was one of the beneficiaries of the election that was declared void, but never a word of protest did he utter until after the Court of Appeals' decision that kicked some down and out kicked him from the Court House to the City Hall.

Play rolls have been held up, putting the city's employees and many small merchants to great inconveniences, and now threats are made that those that have been approved by the General Council will be vetoed. Heavy expenditures are premeditated, it is rumored, and from this it would appear that economy will soon be thrown to the winds. Continue this policy and Democratic defeat is certain, especially if Mr. Bingham heads the ticket.

SELLING ILLEGAL WEAPONS.

We are heartily in accord with Judge Blain and Chief Haager in their effort to suppress the carrying of concealed deadly weapons. It is illegal to have these things in one's possession, whether concealed or not, and yet there are a score of stores in the city of Louisville in which murderous knives, billies, knuckles and other weapons of the thug and the coward are exposed boldly in the windows for sale. If it is illegal to have these things in one's possession what right has the vender of second-hand goods not only to have them in his possession but to offer them for sale? The city authorities are growing mighty strict in some things, and right here is a place where reform is called for. If the sale of murderous weapons were abolished there would be fewer brawls and less crime.

TAKES RIGHT VIEW.

The Hon. Augustus E. Willson comes out plain upon the prohibition question, and sensible men will concede that he takes the right view on that important subject. This week at Maysville Mr. Willson made the following declarations:

"All my days I have striven sincerely and faithfully for temperance, and I have practiced what I preached. I have no record of taking the saloon man's money, thousands and thousands of dollars of it, too, to get into office and then throwing them down."

"While I refuse to make any answer to the demands that have been presented as something which I must answer under pains and penalties, threats and disorder, loss and defeat, I take great pleasure in saying that I most earnestly believe in real temperance, but not in a sham, grandstand temperance. I am most seriously and unrelentingly opposed to intemperance, whether in the man who parades as a temperance reformer, or in the victims of the habit or temptation. I believe unrelentingly in the rule of the majority of country, of State, of county, city and precinct, even if the majority decides something that the minority seriously dislikes and objects to, provided it is constitutional. I believe that unless those saloons which are disorderly, and are breeding places of crime, are shut up, and all that remain are conducted under strict regulations, high license and the forfeiture of the right to sell, in case of any abuse of the privilege, the people will speedily wipe out the whole system, as far as it is humanly practicable to do so. I do not believe that absolute prohibition can be sustained in a large city, and I believe that the attempt to do it simply brings the law into contempt and makes a great many people feel that there are laws which can not be obeyed, which is a very dangerous idea to a government of the people."

Mr. Willson also declared that he could not be considered a safe man for Governor if he yielded or gave countenance to a fanatical demand for the immediate extinction and destruction of all that is invested in the manufacture and sale of spirits. "Every conservative and thoughtful man knows or can easily find out," he said, "that we have more than our share in Kentucky invested in these interests; probably more, rather than less, than $100,000,000; and that probably more, rather than less, than 20,000 men are at work in this business in the various branches, and by their labor support their families; and that a very large part—more likely more, rather than less, than half—of the money deposited in banks in the State is loaned on collaterals of this business, and, while every sensible man should insist on thorough, practical measures to decrease our investments in these lines and change them to other fields, no sane or wise man can demand destructive and confiscatory measures except against lawbreakers."

BUILD THE SEWERS.

Within the past few weeks the sales of bonds issued for the construction of sewers has been most satisfactory and the prospects for the beginning of this great work have been materially improved. Not a city in the United States is better situated than Louisville, and not one perhaps possesses as many natural advantages. With a proper sanitary system the city should expand and in time surpass Cincinnati and equal Chicago in population. For ten years the Kentucky Irish American has advocated more sewers for the southern and western sections of our city. Our future progress depends largely upon their immediate construction, and property holders should insist upon the work being started at once, as the longer it is deferred the more it will cost and the less will be their benefits. The cost of the right sanitary system will be nothing as compared with the blessings that will be bestowed upon all sections of the city. Let the work begin now and not cease until entirely completed.

The Gaelic American's abuse of men true to the Ancient Order of Hibernians will avail nothing. Its editor thinks everybody wrong and bad who does not agree with him, hence the futility of his attacks. Just so long as men of his kind can wield the smallest influence so long will there be discord and disunion among the Irish people. From its abuse of men and measures one would judge that it has no principle whatever and that a more intolerant paper does not exist.

The Buels Stove Company has applied to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for an injunction against the American Federation, which has placed the Buels stoves and ranges on the "we don't patronize" list. Since its falling out with organized labor the company has suffered a great loss of trade, and for this reason asks an injunction that will directly affect all the labor organizations.

The American Herald, of New York, has a good word to say of Irishmen in labor troubles. Looking over the occurrences of the last few years, it remarks that Farley and McParlan are exceptions to the rule. Irishmen are neither strikebreakers or the emissaries of those who seek to divide and betray those united in the interest of labor and its fair returns.

NICE RIVER TRIP.

Next Thursday Company C of the Catholic Knights Uniform Rank will have its first encampment at Fern Grove, and this will afford occasion for a delightful river trip. For some time past the Sir Knights have been arranging a plan of entertainment that will please all who accompany them. Capt. Hurd and his men will drill and then devote their attention to the amusement and entertainment of their friends.

BARKER AND THE LADIES.

If President Thomas A. Barker, of the Louisville Baseball Club, wishes to make himself a favorite of the ladies in this town, he should arrange more ladies' days at the ball park before the season closes. The club's policy ought to be encouragement of attendance of the ladies, as they are the best advertisement possible for the good of the game and also an incentive to clean ball. One of the fair sex and an admirer of the game is authority for the statement that there have been only two days for the ladies since the opening. It is up to you, President Barker.

PILGRIMAGES.

Unworthy Anti-Clerical Satirist Causes Suspension For Present.

The Pope's opinion of the anti-clerical demonstrations in Rome is expressed in a letter the Paris Viceroy General has received from Cardinal Merry del Val advising the postponement of the French pilgrimage in consequence of the impossibility of answering for the safety of the pilgrims. The Pope prefers not to expose pilgrims, especially Bishops and priests, to the danger of being insulted during their journeys to Rome and their sojourn in that city. The Cardinal adds that when the present "unworthy anti-clerical saturnalia" is over the Pope will be most delighted to receive representatives of the various nations in Rome during the jubilee year; but under present conditions he thinks it prudent to recommend the postponement of the visits.

The pilgrimage under the guidance of Mgr. Amette, Coadjutor Archbishop of Paris, has accordingly been adjourned.

THE SECRET OUT.

The relatives and friends of Charles Welch, son of John Welch, 511 East Fourth street, and Miss Nellie May Miller, daughter of Nicholas Miller, 322 Vincennes street, New Albany, were let into the secret last Monday that those worthy young people had been quietly married on August 12 at the rectory of Holy Trinity church by the Rev. Dr. Moir's legion of friends and patients, though regretting his departure from this city, are pleased over his good fortune and wish him unlimited success in his new field of labor.

SHOT WENT OVER HEAD.

Patrolman Frank Canfield had a rather disagreeable experience Tuesday night while on the way to make his post and in the vicinity of the Clay and Fulton streets some miscreant fired two shots at him from out the darkness, but fortunately both passed over his head. The would-be assassins were hid among high weeds in a vacant lot, and as soon as the shots were fired they took to flight and made their escape. The attack has caused much surprise, as the officer is popular and is not known to have a single enemy.

GOING SOME.

The Y. M. I. of the Indiana jurisdiction is going some these days. Grand President Riley, of Indianapolis, last week instituted a council at Clinton, Ind., and on Sunday with other officers visited Detroit, where another promising council was organized and the members initiated. HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

There are 330 divisions in Pennsylvania, with total assets of over $330,000.

The total strength of the Ladies' Auxiliary now aggregates 53,000 members.

The new divisions organized in Pennsylvania this year will cause a big increase in membership.

Michigan reports a large increase in the auxiliary membership during the past month, and will soon reach the 3,100 mark.

The picnic held by the order in Milwaukee was one of the most successful ever held in that city, there being over 7,000 paid admissions.

Division 1 of Milwaukee has voted to donate $100 annually for prizes to students in the parochial schools who excel in the study of Irish history.

Recent advances from Miss Malla, National President, are that prospects are bright for a further increase of 10,000 in the auxiliary before the Indianapolis convention.

The three divisions of Seattle join in one meeting each month in holding a social session, and the method has proven a strong factor in up-building the order.

The Pennsylvania State Board of offers a silk banner to the county showing the least percentage of suspensions according to membership during the year 1907.

In every State the Ladies' Auxiliary is most heartily encouraged by Bishops and clergy, many of whom are taking an active part in the up-building of the society.

To raise funds to put two windows in St. Veronica's church Divisions 69 and 94 of Philadelphia will give a combination excursion to New York and Coney Island on Sunday, September 15.

Maryland State officers were greatly encouraged by the substantial donation of $150 from the National Board for extension work. Like interest in Kentucky would be appreciated.

If John Flanagan retains his laurels in the New York Hibernian contests on September 1 he will go to England in October to compete for the world's championship at the British international sports.

There will be an important meeting of the National Board at Atlantic City next week. Rev. Father Byrne, of Indiana, and Major McCrystal, of New York, will not be present, as both are in Ireland.

The first general reunion of members of the upper peninsula divisions in many years will be held at Marquette, Mich., on August 31.

The feature of the morning will be a big parade. In the afternoon there will be a varied programme of sports, and in the evening a grand ball.

The annual carnival of the New York Hibernians will be held at Cattle Park on Sunday, September 1. Arrangements are being made to make the day a memorable one. The athletic feature of the carnival will be particularly interesting in view of the fact that a number of world's champions will compete and National President Cummings will present the prizes.

SLATED FOR HONORS.

Rector of the American College May Be Appointed Archbishop.

It is understood that Mr. Kennedy, the popular rector of the American College in Rome, is destined to receive in the near future an important recognition of the splendid services he has rendered and still renders the church. It is known his name was included among those of the candidates for the Bishopric of Fall River, but the Pope himself has said he did not wish Kennedy should for a moment leave Rome, as he wishes him to complete the work he has begun, after which he will see that a position more important than that at Fall River is given him. It is hinted that Mr. Kennedy may end by being appointed Archbishop without having first been Bishop, as was done in the case of Mr. Harty, Archbishop of Manila.

SIXTY DAYS' VISIT.

Morris Kennedy, of Jeffersonville, who went to Panama over a year ago, arrived home last week on a sixty days' tour. He says he was never sick a day during his absence, and as he likes the country he will probably return. His position there is a remunerative one.

FRANCIS GATHOF BETTER.

Francis Gathof, the bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Gathof, of West Madison street, who last Saturday underwent the third operation for appendicitis, is resting easy and making nice progress toward recovery at the Gray-street Infirmary, but it will be two weeks or more before he can be removed to his home.

MOTHER'S VACATION.

Every one in summer needs a vacation—but mother. Who ever heard of mother needing a vacation—unless she was a young widow? As a rule, mother trudges along every day, from early morn until late at night, scarcely ever complaining. She never thinks of taking a vacation, and nobody else ever thinks she needs one. Always something to do for some one else. All the children, young and old, she thinks, need a vacation, but never one for herself. Her answer invariably is: "What would the house do if I would take a vacation?" Yet mother needs a vacation worse than any one in the house. She should have it. It will prolong her life and be a great source of comfort and happiness to all around her.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

With $2,531,000 in its treasury, the order can be said to be in excellent condition.

The Knights of O'Neil, Neb., have let the contract for their new building, which will cost about $15,000.

Owensboro Knights are making arrangements for another initiation in the near future, probably next month.

When Edward L. Hearn became Supreme Knight the total membership was 42,000. Since then it has increased to 186,000.

But one Southerner was given office at the national convention. Victor J. Dorr, of Georgia, was elected one of the National Directors.

The new quarters of the council at Oswego, N. Y., will be ready for occupancy early in October, and will accommodate over 300 persons.

The proposed endowment of $50,000 for the Catholic University will be raised by the members contributing fifty cents each yearly for five years.

Nell O'Brien and Cockstader's minstrels were guests at a clam bake given Wednesday in their honor by the Binghamton council. Nell was born in Binghamton and was one of the first members to join the council there.

The order flourishes in every State and Territory of the United States, in every province of the Dominion of Canada, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, the Philippine Islands and the republic of Mexico.

LAWN EUCURE.

An ice cream social and eucure will be held on the lawn, adjoining the residence of Mrs. B. Duncan, 319 Twenty-sixth street, on next Tuesday evening. It will be under the auspices of the Surprise Club, a well-known organization of charity workers in the West End, and is deserving of liberal patronage.

THEATER SEASON OPENING.

The local theatrical season opened this week and all have done big business. Monday the Masonic will open with "Lena Rivera," a drama that has everywhere found high favor. Macaulay's and the Mary Anderson will also soon open their doors, the former with Field's minstrels and the latter with vaudeville. The Buckingham was crowded nightly this week, and the attraction coming next is one of the best in the Empire circuit.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The rainfall this season has been phenomenal, making it without doubt the dampest known in a hundred years.

The Louth branch will send Michael Matthews and Joseph Duffy as delegates to the Dublin convention of the National Council.

Messrs. Bernard Kelly and Patrick Murphy were appointed to represent the Dundalk branch at the National Council meeting in Dublin.

The flax growing industry seems to be gradually reviving in some districts, as a good proportion of the land is under that crop this year.

James Wormald has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for Armagh on the recommendation of Lord Gosford, his Majesty's Lieutenant for the county.

Under the auspices of the United Irish League and the Ancient Order of Hibernians a very large Nationalist meeting was held at Castleblaney on the 15th.

Margaret Quinn, of Rogan's Lane, Ardee, was found dead by her husband. For some time her mind had been affected, and during the night she arose and hanged herself.

One of the many illustrations of what is being done in various ways throughout industrial Ireland is the fact that Tipperary gloves are finding a ready sale in London shops.

Hugh Corr, of Crossmaglen, has been appointed to the Commission of the Peace for the County of Armagh on the recommendation of Lord Gosford, Lord Lieutenant of the county.

Samuel Kennedy, aged forty-two and a well known merchant of Clones, who had been apparently in his usual health up to Wednesday morning, was seized with cerebral hemorrhage and died in a few hours.

Wednesday evening a young man named Cross, while having at his residence near Castleblaney, fell from a hay rack and broke his neck, expiring shortly after the accident and before medical aid could be summoned.

Deep regret followed the death of Michael McMahon, which occurred at the Whitworth Hospital. He was a comparatively young and robust man and an esteemed resident of Carrickmacross, in which he conducted a prosperous business.

Nicholas Murphy, the Ballyhale merchant, will represent South Kilkenny in Parliament, succeeding James O'Mara, who resigned. Murphy was proposed by Rev. John Doyle and seconded by Rev. John Brennan and had no opposition.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, wife of John Wilson, of Newbliss, took place at the mature age of eighty-two, after being in failing health for some time. Possessed of extreme generosity and kindness she was held in high esteem and the funeral to Killeevan church was largely attended.

Two sad bathing fatalities are reported from the South of Ireland, one of the victims being Rev. Father O'Keefe, a native of Thurles, and the other a young lady named Miss Smith, of Roscrea. Father O'Keefe, who was staying at Lisdoonvarna, was drowned while bathing at Doonin, off the Clare coast. Three other priests were with him, but unfortunately they were not able to render assistance, the place where the drowning occurred being very dangerous. The other fatality occurred at Kilkenny, where Miss Smith was wading off the rocks, and was swept out by a tidal wave. A boat rapidly put out to her assistance and she was brought ashore and medical aid quickly in attendance, but life was found to be extinct.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Reigns at Vatican Over the Prohibition of Pilgrimages.

Rome cablegrams say great disappointment reigns at the Vatican over the prohibition of the first pilgrimages in connection with the Pope's jubilee, which would certainly have caused some trouble, as the pilgrimages were to have been begun on September 20, the anniversary of the fall of the temporal power, which day is always devoted to clerical demonstrations. However, the festivities to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of Pope Pius' entrance into the priesthood will last for one year, ending in September, 1908, so that there is quite time for the present danger to pass away and for many pilgrimages to come.

It is true, says the same authority, that the Pontiff has not been well lately, but there is nothing in the condition of his health to cause immediate alarm. The weather suddenly became very severe and its effect upon the Pope was aggravated by his heavy robes and want of exercise. The Pope takes no exercise in hot weather, his gardens being even more oppressive than his palace. The only remedy would seem to be for him to get over his aversion to motoring and take frequent airings in the motor car of his Secretary of State.

TAKING VACATION.

Rev. Father Edward Boes, pastor of St. Aloysius' church at Pewee Valley, has been adjourning at French Lick Springs for the past week on his annual vacation. This is a much needed rest for Father Boes, as he certainly labors hard in building up his struggling parish.

PRETTY CHURCH.

The Rev. Father Peckcamp, the zealous and energetic pastor of St. Mary's church at Lanesville, twelve miles northwest of New Albany, has begun the work and is superintending the extensive repairs that are being made, and which when completed will render it one of the

"QUICK MEAL" GAS RANGES

For many years the "Quick Meal" has been universally acknowledged as the best gas range in the market. They cook quickly, bake excellently and on account of their patent air burners consume less gas than any other. They are more easily cleaned and are made to last. The new improvements this year will keep it in the front rank. Having made our 1907 contract before the advance in prices of all iron goods we are able to sell at old prices.

CHILD LABOR.

Inspector Tom Scally Looking After Covington and Newport.

State Labor Inspector Thomas
Scally, of this city, has returned from a tour of inspection to Covington and Newport, where with Assistant Inspector William Young he visited a number of places to see that child labor was not employed.
Under the law Inspector Scally is required to submit a biennial report to the Legislature, showing the labor conditions throughout Kentucky and other statistics of the industrial growth of the State. The report of Inspector Young will be embodied in Scally's report, which he is now preparing for the State Legislature.

The enforcement of the child labor
law in Kenton and Campbell counties,
as compared with that of other counties, was investigated by Inspector Scally during his tour, and in both it was found that the child labor laws were being observed. This was Inspector Scally's first official visit to Newport and Covington, and he was highly pleased with the evidences of prosperity and satisfactory conditions that exist there.

ENTER NEW FIELD.

French Nuns Leave Kentucky
to Establish Home in Missouri.

The Sisters of Mount Zion, a French colony of nuns from the Orient who have dwelt during the past three years at the former home of the Sisters of Mercy on the Newburg road, have left the Louisville diocese and are now stationed at Marshall, in the Kansas City diocese,
under the jurisdiction of the Right
Rev. Bishop Hagan. The French school which they opened on Ferndale avenue was patronized by many ladies of this city. These French nuns have academies in not only Europe and South America, but throughout Palestine and other sections of Asia. They were exquisitely educated. The former academy has been taken in charge
by a small number of Ursuline Sisters from the Sacred Heart Academy and the Ursuline Convent at Shelby and Gray streets, where they will establish a home for their order.

BISHOP FROM CHINA

Aroused Great Interest in Native Dress at Encharistic Congress.

The greatest interest was aroused
in the course of the Eucharistic Congress in Metz by the presence of an ecclesiastic with fully developed pigtail
and drooping mustache,
dressed in Chinese raiment, over which was worn a Bishop's cassock.
Curiosity was further intensified when the Bishop of Shan-Tung—for such was the strange churchman's title—addressed the meeting in German with a pronounced Lorraine accent. Later it was discovered that the supposed Chinese was a native of Lorraine named Wittner, who had been a Catholic missionary in the Far East since 1878, during which period he had so lived himself into the life of the people that he had adopted their habits and mode of dress and hardly ever spoke anything but Chinese. He found he thus was able to reach the heathen with added facility. Until the meeting of the Eucharistic Congress he had not been home for nearly thirty years.

HEARD REPORT.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., had a good attendance present Tuesday evening, many evincing interest in the report of Delegate Ed. Wolf concerning the proceedings of the recent State convention at Owensboro. The report was complete and satisfying and was well received, especially so being the fact that Mr. Wolf had been elected First Grand Vice President. Second Vice President Jos.
Hehemann presided in the absence of President Conkling, and the glad hand was extended to Henry Stoer, a former familiar figure at Trinity's meetings, and who responded

by making and encouraging
talk concerning the club house. Trinity will soon begin its winter campaign, and when the end comes the membership may have the pleasure of meeting in the new club house, one that will surpass any that the order now owns.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Charles Amlung,
son of Jacob and Theresa Amlung,
who died Wednesday at the family residence, 1204 Rogers street, will take place this morning from St.
Aloysius church. A dutiful and loving son, his parents have sustained a heavy loss and have the sympathy of many friends.

The last sad rites over the remains of Mrs. Katie Aupley were held Sunday afternoon at St. Cecilia's church. Mrs. Aupley was the mother of Mrs. Thomas J. Tierney, 1905 Portland avenue, and was well known and highly respected here and in Indianapolis. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

Gertrude Hauser, eighty years of age and one of the pioneer members of St. Anthony's church, died Thursday morning at her home, 523 Eightteenth street. She was a devout Catholic and had long been fully prepared for the final summons. Her funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock from the church
where she so long worshipped.

Mrs. Katherine Waller, aged fifty-six years, who resided with her son-in-law, Henry Seller, 308 East Ormsby avenue, passed into eternal rest Tuesday afternoon. She was well known and highly respected in the neighborhood in which she resided,
and her death caused widespread sorrow throughout St. Vincent de Paul's parish, of which she was a devout member. Her funeral took place yesterday morning with a requiem mass and was largely attended.

After a long and exemplary life
Mrs. Frances Uhrig, aged seventy-seven years, passed to her eternal reward Wednesday evening, death resulting from infirmities incident to her advanced age. For many years
she made this city her home and here raised a family of which she had reason to feel proud. Mrs. Uhrig's husband, Adam Uhrig, died years ago, and she was survived by two daughters, Mrs. William J. Norton and Mrs. Charles Heverin, and three sons, Edward, Charles and John Uhrig. Her funeral took place yesterday morning from St. Mary Magdalen's church, Rev. Father Gausepohl officiating at the requiem mass.

INTEREST IN BOWLING.

The coming season promises to be a banner one in the bowling game,
much interest now being manifested
in the organization of the different leagues, and a record breaking list of entries is sure for the national tournament at Cincinnati in February. The Falls City Bowling League, which is considered Louisville's premier bowling organization, has organized with the following list of teams: Kentucky Irish American,
Squire Adams, Itathskeller, O'Neal
& O'Neal, Sutcliffe, Ferncliffe, Korn Krackers and Coca Cola. The officers of the league are John J. Barry, President; R. B. Smith, Vice President; D. J. Gleeson, Secretary, and J.
G. Minnerode, Treasurer. The season will open Tuesday, September 10.

PRIZE BABY SHOW.

Next week will be a record breaker
at Fontaine Ferry, the feature of which will be the baby show that opens Monday and closes Saturday.
Prizes aggregating $300 in value and including such handsome gifts as diamond rings, gold watches, baby carriages, etc., are to be distributed among the winners, and babies ranging in age from six months to three years, fat, thin, pretty, ugly or otherwise, will have a chance to compete in this novel contest. Special prizes of $50 in gold will be given to the best sets of twins and triplets and competition among this class promises to be especially keen.
On the new vaudeville bill which will be introduced at the Hopkins' Pavilion will be a number of acts new to Louisville theater-goers. Miss Emma Partridge, the favorite vocalist, will continue as soloist in the free concerts and will be heard in conjunction with Cook's splendid band every afternoon and evening.

FOR LABOR DAY.

Fitting Celebration Will Take Place at Phoenix
Hill.

The committees arranging for the celebration of Labor day at Phoenix Hill Park have perfected every detail, and if the weather man does not interfere the largest gathering for many years will assemble there. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the new school at St. Paul's church, and every effort will be made to realize a good sum to aid Father
Thomas York in his big undertaking.
The programme includes euchre for the afternoon and night, with many handsome prizes. Besides there will be a big baby show, in which all mamas should enter their youngsters, two of whom will receive $5 in gold each. For this event no entrance fee will be charged.

Every boy attending will be given a free chance on a fine Angora goat, wagon and harness, and some little fellow will ride home happy in a dandy rig. In addition the ladies of the congregation will serve another of their famed dinners, which will cost but a quarter. There will be many diversions and amusements,
and the admission will be only ten cents.

CLERICAL CHANGES.

Rev. Lambert Kendrick Comes to Local Passionist Monastery.

Rev. Lambert Kendrick, C. P., arrived Wednesday from Holy Cross College at Cincinnati, and will for the present be stationed at the Passionist Retreat on the Newburg road near the city. Rev. Father Marcelius, of the retreat, was transferred to the place made vacant by Father Lambert, and will teach at the college
during the coming year. Rev. Father Benedict Hanley, C. P., reached home
the same day from Cincinnati,
Liberty and other towns in the State,
where he has been giving missions
during the summer months. At Liberty rather Benedict preached to a splendid congregation of all denominations in the Christian church of that place, and was invited to return and give a course of lectures to the residents of that vicinity.

FONTENOY.

Monument to Irish Heroes
Who Fell in the Famous Battle.

The unveiling of the monument recently erected by Irishmen in honor of the Irish heroes who fell in the famous battle of 1745, when they volunteered to serve against England with France, is scheduled to take place tomorrow with impressive ceremonies, arrangements for which have long been under way. The Mayor of Dublin and a delegation of prominent Irish citizens will visit Belgium for the occasion, and the Mayor will preside over the unveiling. The monument consists of a Celtic cross of Irish granite. The location is not far from Waterloo.

Money was contributed from all parts of Ireland toward the construction of the monument. The Belgian Government will be officially represented at the festivities, and a grand reception will be given to the Lord Mayor of Dublin and to the representatives of Ireland who will come over to attend the ceremony.

LAWN FETE FRIDAY.

The ladies of St. Frances of Rome parish will entertain their friends with a lawn fete on the grounds at Payne and Caveood avenues next Friday, August 30. This affair was to have originally been given August 8, but was postponed on account of rain on that date. The committee of ladies in charge promise a pleasant evening to those attending. Those of our readers who have never spent a night in Clifton should take advantage of this opportunity to meet Father Thomas White and the hospitable people of his congregation,
who will have a time they will long remember.
